

Mediation Theory

Who is the course for?

Mediators who are interested in gaining a greater understanding of the theory behind the practice of mediation.

Learning objectives

After completion, learners will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the key theories underpinning mediation
- Demonstrate an understanding of how theory affects practice
- Identify current models of mediation
- Critically evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of these models.

How you'll be taught

We aim to provide a safe and enjoyable atmosphere for learning. Our style is highly interactive, and we use a lot of small group work and group discussion. There will be opportunities to bring your own experience to discussions in pairs and small groups.

Assessment procedure

This course is not assessed.

Fees and Booking

The cost is £80 and places are booked through completion of a booking form, available on request.

Entry

There are no formal entry requirements, but participants should have completed basic mediation skills training and have some casework experience within a community mediation service.

Dates: see website for further information

Venue: online (Zoom)

Accreditation details

This course is equivalent to five hours Continuing Professional Development

Booking: You can book via email at infoSCMC@sacro.org.uk

Information about this course and other courses that Scottish Community Mediation Centre run can be found at our website: www.scmc.sacro.org.uk