

Restorative Practice for Leaders

Restorative practice brings together those harmed by crime and those responsible for the harm into communication, enabling everyone affected by a particular incident to play a part in repairing the harm and finding a positive way forward.

Edinburgh
04 December 2024

Delivered online via Zoom

Who is this for?

This one day workshop is designed for service managers and team leaders of organisations that are delivering or considering delivering restorative justice services. This workshop introduces leaders to the concept and some of the principles of restorative practice, outlining some of the aspects and skills learnt from the Centre's six-day Restorative Skills course, approved by the Restorative Justice Council.

Objectives

The workshop provides learners with an understanding of:

- > The effects of conflict
- > How conflict develops
- > Formal and informal conflict resolution
- > Benefits of either mediation or restorative practice
- > The Restorative process
- > Restorative skills required of a facilitator
- > An outline of the restorative meeting
- > Restorative practice applications

This is an interactive course, led by experienced trainers providing a safe learning environment.

Learning Provider

The Scottish Community Mediation Centre was founded in 1999 and has provided mediation and conflict resolution training to over a thousand learners since 2000. Originally funded by the Scottish Government, the Centre is managed by Sacro, a Scottish charity which works to create safer and more cohesive communities across Scotland.

To book

Book online at scmc.sacro.org.uk, or for further information, please email info@scmc@sacro.org.uk

Places are limited and there is no charge for this workshop.